

REVISING THE LAWS FOR THE AMERICAN EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

HOUSE OF BISHOPS AND MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF DEPUTIES DISCUSS MATTERS OF VITAL INTEREST TO THE CHURCH—PROMINENT MEN TAKE PART IN DEBATES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The second week of the Triennial Episcopal Convention opened this morning with much important work on the program and a general disposition on the part of the delegates to accomplish as much as possible during the day. At the usual prayer service in Trinity Church Arch-deacon Williams of Washington, D. C., was the celebrant, the benediction being pronounced by Bishop Tuttle of Missouri.

Consideration of the amendments to the constitution was resumed both by the House of Bishops and House of Deputies, and occupied the attention of the convention during the day.

Daughters of the King.
At St. Luke's Church the Daughters of the King continued their interesting meeting, the forenoon being devoted to the discussion of business matters.

The American Sunday School Institute held its first session at Grace Church, the attendance being large. Bishop Nichols of California conducted a prayer service and also delivered an address of welcome. Bishop Talbot of Central Pennsylvania was elected President, and Rev. H. Durbin Secretary. Much interest was manifested in the proceedings.

House of Deputies.
President Lindsay called the House of Deputies to order this morning, but considerable time was occupied in reading and approving the minutes of the preceding day's session.

Dr. Beauty of Kansas, for the Committee on Unfinished Business, reported a large number of matters left by the last convention in an unfinished condition. Rev. Dr. Baker of New Jersey, of the Committee on a memorial with reference to a sustentation fund, made a report, the substance of which was the expression of hope that such a fund might be formed.

Amendments Presented.
Several amendments to Article I of the new constitution were offered, the object being to change the rule designating the manner of determining who shall be the presiding bishop and the term of his service in that position.

A message from the House of Bishops announced its consent that the name of the Diocese of Indiana be changed to the Diocese of Indianapolis. The Deputies immediately concurred.

Rev. Hudson Stuck, of Dallas, offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Education:

"Resolved, That the degree of Doctor of Philosophy implies in the holder original research of a character to further the progress of some science and should be given only on residence at a duly incorporated and qualified college on proof of such work by examination and thesis."

Resolved, That only degrees of Doctor of Philosophy so conferred should be recognized in the calendars and official publications of the church.

Special Forms of Service.
The House proceeded with the discussion of the amendments of the constitution, the question being the provision that special forms of service may be prescribed by canon for certain congregations not in full communion with the church.

An attempt was made to limit speeches to ten minutes. Rev. Dr. Fulton opposed any limitation. (Continued on Page 2.)

CHARGED WITH MURDERING WHEN THE BATTLE WAS FOURTEEN RELATIVES AND FRIENDS. "GOD BLESS OREGON."

REMARKABLE CASE OF AN OHIO WOMAN WHO IS ARRESTED ON MANY SERIOUS ACCUSATIONS — ACCUSED OF GETTING AWAY WITH FOUR HUSBANDS, FIVE CHILDREN, ONE SISTER AND FOUR OTHER PEOPLE—MUST ANSWER TO LAW.

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 7.—Mrs. J. A. Witmer, a widow residing in this city, has been arrested by the police at the instigation of the coroner and is held a prisoner at central station pending an investigation into very serious charges. Mrs. Witmer, the police say, is suspected of fourteen murders, the list including four husbands, five children, one sister and four members of different families in which she was employed as a housekeeper. The last supposed victim was her sister, Mrs. Anna Pugh, who died a week ago under mysterious circumstances. An autopsy performed at the request of Mrs. Witmer's mother, who came here from Detroit, is said to have disclosed the presence of arsenic and copper in the stomach. Following closely upon the death of her first husband, Fred Schweiger, came, according to police department data, the death of two children. The second husband died suddenly several years after the wedding, and three children of this marriage died in rapid succession. Her last husband, A. J. Witmer, died last April. In each instance death was somewhat sudden and all were strangely alike. The prisoner is 47 years of age, formerly lived in Middleton, State. She has two sons in the Philippines, and a sister, it is stated, a New York asylum. No conceivable motive for the suspected crimes has been disclosed. Drugs which were found in the house occupied by Mrs. Witmer are in possession of the police and will be examined.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN.

RANSOM FUND REACHES $27,000.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 7.—With receipts coming in from numerous quarters, the fund for the ransom of Miss Helen M. Stone, the American missionary captured by brigands in Turkey, at 11 o'clock today reached $27,000.

FIRE SWEEPS AWAY A BLOCK IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Fire swept through half a block of frame and brick buildings in South Chicago early today, causing a loss in the neighborhood of $50,000. The rapid spread of the flames was due largely to the delay to a number of fire engines by broken bridges over the Calumet river. Nine buildings were burned. Of these one was a three story brick, and six were residences the occupants of which were driven into the streets in night attire.

CHAIN MAKERS HAVE SETTLED THEIR STRIKE.

YORK, Pa., Oct. 7.—The strike of the chain makers in the two local factories of the Standard Chain Company was settled today and the men returned to work. A settlement was effected on a wage advance of 10 per cent on wages and 7 per cent on cart chains. Two hundred men are affected.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A news agency publishes the following dispatch from Simla, dated this evening: "Habibullah Khan, eldest son of the Ameer of Afghanistan has reported to the British agent at Kabul that the Ameer died last Thursday after a brief illness."

THE PRESIDENT MAKES IMPORTANT APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The President today appointed former Governor Thomas Goode Jones of Alabama United States District Judge for the Northern and Middle District of Alabama to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Bruce. The President also appointed Charles Hartwell of Colorado, Secretary to Porto Rico, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Secretary Hunt to the Governorship of the Island.

CHARGES ARE MADE BY CHINESE.

Do Not Like the Way Americans Carry Their Side Arms.

PEKING, Oct. 7.—The officials here have not been informed as to whether the Court started for Kai Feng Fu, (as announced in a despatch from Shanghai yesterday.) Previous advices lead to the belief that the Court did start. Temporary palaces at Kai Feng Fu and Pao Ting Fu are being prepared like permanent dwellings, although they will be occupied only for a few days.

Traveling Expenses.
The requisitions for the traveling expenses already amount to 13,600,000 taels in spite of the edict enjoining economy in this respect. Several local officials along the route have resigned because they are unable to meet the expenses of entertaining the Court.

Americans Accused.
The Chinese officials are considering the desirability of protesting to the foreign Ministers against the conduct of the Legation Guards. The soldiers confine to treat the Chinese like a conquered people. Groups of soldiers roam about the city wearing their side arms, often intoxicated, maltreating the natives and committing petty robberies. A party of Americans recently looted a silversmith's store, securing several hundred taels worth of property. The whole garrison was confined to barracks until the guilty men were detected.

FORGERY IS THE CHARGE.

D. A. Urquhart of East Oakland Must Answer Before the Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—D. A. Urquhart of East Oakland, who came into much notoriety in this city a few years ago through his connection with O. W. Winthrop, now serving under imprisonment for life at San Francisco for kidnapping James Campbell, a wealthy Hawaiian planter, is under arrest on a charge of forgery. He was taken into custody on a warrant from Bakersfield, where the alleged crime was committed. The Kern county authorities accuse the man of uttering five checks against the account of the Pacific Coast Oil Company, in the Bank of Bakersfield, by J. Maxwell, superintendent of the corporation, and in favor of "J. Sweet."

Urquhart worked as a laborer for the company up to September 27, when he was discharged. Sheriff Borgwardt of Kern arrived today and will take back his prisoner either tonight or tomorrow morning.

When asked the other day if there was any truth in the statement attributed to Secretary Gage that Mr. Hay was soon to retire from the Cabinet, he replied that he was sure Mr. Gage had said nothing of the sort.

COMMANDER HODGSON SAYS THAT THE BROOKLYN DID EVERYTHING IN HER POWER TO WIN THE BATTLE DURING THE FIGHT AT SANTIAGO — SCHLEY SAID "DAMN THE TEXAS."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Schley Court of Inquiry today entered upon the third straight week of the investigation of Admiral Schley's conduct in the Spanish War. The crowd in attendance was as large as at any previous time, indicating that the interest in the case is unabated. It had been expected that the Navy Department would be able to complete its presentation of the case by the close of last week, but when the Court opened today Captain Lemly's list of witnesses still contained about a dozen names. Prominent among these is Captain Chadwick, who was Admiral Sampson's chief of staff and who was in immediate command of the flagship New York during the Santiago campaign.

Correcting Testimony.
The program for today included in addition to those recalled for the correction of their testimony the names of two new witnesses and of two who have hitherto been on the stand. The new witnesses who were present when court convened with the expectation of being called to the stand during the day, were Captain W. M. Folger, who commanded the cruiser New Orleans during the bombardment of the Cristobal Colon on May 31, in which that vessel participated, and Lieutenant M. L. Bristol, who was an ensign, was the watch officer on the battleship Texas during the Santiago campaign.

Lieutenant Commander Dyson was also present with the understanding that he would probably be recalled during the day for the purpose of correcting his testimony concerning the coal supply of the flying squadron when it first arrived at Santiago and its capacity under varying conditions of speed.

Hodgson on the Stand.
The day's proceedings began with the recall of Lieut. Doyle and Commander Rodgers for the purpose of correcting their testimony, and when they had been excused Lieut. Commander Hodgson, Navigator of the Brooklyn during the Santiago campaign, resumed the stand. This was his third sitting, and when he began today's testimony the Judge Advocate had not entirely completed his questions. There were still a few of the letters constituting the correspondence between the witness and Admiral Schley to be read, and when they were concluded Captain Lemly and Mr. Hanna proceeded with their questions.

When the reading of the Schley-Hodgson correspondence had been concluded Captain Lemly asked Mr. Hodgson whether his denial of the colloquy between himself and Commodore Schley had ever been published entire. Mr. Hodgson replied in the negative, saying that the last paragraph of his letter of denial had not been printed. This paragraph referred to the enclosure of a newspaper clipping. Mr. Bayner began his cross-examination by asking Mr. Hodgson whether the Marblehead had hailed the Brooklyn when the two vessels passed each other as the Brooklyn was on her way to Cienfuegos. The witness replied in the negative. The examination then turned upon events about Cienfuegos and in reply to Mr. Bayner's inquiry Mr. Hodgson detailed these at length.

Saw the Signals.
Commander Hodgson said in reply to these questions that he had seen the lights on the shore at Cienfuegos which were afterwards determined to be signals but he had supposed they were signals between different branches of the Spanish service on shore.

He added that when Captain McCalla arrived with information as to the meaning of the signals he was immediately despatched to the shore to communicate with the insurgents.

He said that the progress of the squadron was impeded between Cienfuegos and Santiago by the heavy weather, the smaller vessels, the Vixen and Eagle. Mr. Hanna then asked: "How far off were you during this blockade of Santiago from the Morro during the day and night of May 28, 29th, 30th and 31st?"

The witness replied: "Early in the day time our habitual position was about 6 miles. In the afternoon I think we steamed up and down in front of the harbor, a distance of about six miles."

He stated that the picket boats, the Marblehead and the Vixen, were inside the line of the fleet, about midway between that line and the shore line.

Tells of the Battle.
The witness then, in response to a request from Mr. Bayner, continued his description of the naval battle of July 3d from the point where he had dropped that description at Captain Lemly's request while he was on the stand Friday.

In this connection he said: "The Brooklyn did all she could. She got into the action just as quick as steam could carry her there. We commenced firing as soon as the first gun on the port bow would bear and we kept the port battery firing until she turned about port helm, through the arc, using the aft guns until we got all our starboard guns to bear. We got around as quickly as we could with port helm until we almost paralleled the course of the leading Spanish vessel, when the helm was eased and the ship steered a course parallel with the Viscaya, which was then the leading vessel, although the Maria Teresa probably was farther to the westward than the Viscaya. She was standing at an angle into the shore. When we got around the smoke was so dense nothing could be seen of anything in the rear of us. Three

GONE AFTER A DEFAULTING CLERK

Will Be Brought Back From Cuba to Answer For His Crime.

SANDUSKY, Ohio, Oct. 7.—A. W. Miller, formerly City Clerk, who left here last February, being alleged to have made away with nearly $100,000 of the city's funds, has been located at Havana, Cuba, and Chief of Police Velhages and City Solicitor Henry Hart have gone after him. A telegram was received from Havana saying that Miller was there and asking what would be paid for his surrender. A reward of $500 was voted by the Council and a reply was received that Miller would be turned over by his captor for that amount. A Cuban who made the offer said that Miller is poor, friendless and in a pitiable condition.

AFTER FIFTY YEARS THEY GO TO DIVORCE COURT.

The trial of the divorce suit of Mary Jane Leveira against Jose Leveira, well-known and wealthy residents of San Leandro, was begun this morning before Judge Greene. The parties to the action are well advanced in life, and have been married fifty years.

They present the unusual spectacle of a man and wife who have grown old together and who have reared a family of eleven children, some of whom are in middle age, resorting to the divorce courts for separation.

Almost the entire inner enclosure of the court room was occupied this morning by the offspring of the contending couple.

The defendant wears a long, white beard, which gives him the aspect of a patriarch.

Mrs. Leveira took the witness stand and testified that her husband had been cruel to her for a period covering thirty years. She declared that she had often contemplated instituting proceedings, but that on each occasion her husband had made overtures and she had relented.

Her evidence included charges that the defendant had struck the witness with his clenched fist and had abused and reviled her in the presence of others.

The question was raised as to the admissibility of evidence concerning events alleged to have occurred over thirty years ago, and the attorneys were given time to review authorities on the subject.

Cary Howard and E. C. Robinson represented the defendant and S. Geary is attorney for Mrs. Leveira.

ENGLAND AFTER THE ANARCHISTS.

Kelly's Address is the Cause of Much Comment in London.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The speech of H. H. Kelly of New York at the anarchist meeting held yesterday in the Tottenham Court Road, London (in which he denounced the late President McKinley's political career) has led to a revival of the demand for extirpation of anarchists.

The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon compares anarchism with Fenianism and maintains that the only difference between the sentiments of anarchists and the war of outrage advocated by such men as former Congressman Flinnerty is merely one of diverse means to the same end, urges that the police of the two Anglo-Saxon nations be empowered to take concerted action to hunt down the social enemy whether anarchist or Fenian, and that both governments refuse them the right of asylum.

By a coincidence the Times this morning prints a long article from Washington protesting against the license allowed the Irish in America in plotting against Great Britain.

Commenting on this the St. James Gazette thinks British hands are not altogether clean and that no law would be strained if Kelly and other foreigners whose cult is murder, received immediate notice to quit.

INSPECTOR NEWELL WILL RESIGN.

GRAVE CHARGES ARE MADE AGAINST THE CITY LICENSE COLLECTOR AND THE MAYOR GIVES HIM THE OPTION OF STANDING TRIAL OR RETIRING
—FITZGERALD'S APPOINTEE.

License Inspector Timothy J. Newell has been caught red-handed in the act of grafting.

Mayor Barstow received information that he was extorting money from saloon keepers on one pretext or another had Chief Hodgkins to detail detectives to ascertain the facts. The report made by the Chief is damning, and Newell is expected to resign rather than face an investigation and perhaps a criminal prosecution.

The revelation of Newell's grafting was caused by his holding up Pizzola and Solari, who keep a saloon on Telegraph avenue in Temescal. Last June they filed an application for renewal of their license, but it has never been acted on by the License Committee, because it lacked the signatures of a requisite number of residents.

They have continued to do business, however, with the consent of License Inspector Newell, who was evidently out to charge all the traffic would bear. He first demanded and received from one of the partners $15 on the pretense that he would square the matter with the License Committee.

Subsequently he made another demand for $50 for his alleged services, but in reality for allowing them to continue business without a license.

These actions caused the saloon men to groan about the way they were being held up, and rumors of the transactions reached the Mayor, who immediately instituted an inquiry through the Police Department. It is said that the proof is positive, although Newell makes a half-hearted denial. He also says he will not resign, but nobody believes him. There are stories afloat that he has held up other saloon keepers who have had trouble in getting their licenses renewed, but it is difficult to obtain proof as the parties to the alleged transactions naturally deny them.

Newell owes his appointment to Councilman Fitzgerald, whose friend and protege he is. When this Council was organized Fitzgerald agreed in caucus to stand in with the majority, but demanded several important concessions in return, chief of which was the appointment of Newell to be License Inspector.

This appointment was given to him with great reluctance, for the Republican members of the Council did not regard Newell with much favor.

However, as Fitzgerald made a sine qua non of Newell he was given the place.

That he was prepared to make it very profitable is now apparent.

Whether he relied upon Fitzgerald to protect him or not cannot be stated, but at any rate his operations were very bold and he had not been in office two months before vague complaints began to be made against him.

But no direct proof could be obtained till he stood Solari and Pizzola up a second time.

To say that Mayor Barstow is astounded and indignant is putting it mildly.

At first he was loth to believe the charges could be true, but what he has learned through the police had made him determined to probe the matter to the bottom. It may be remarked, by way of parenthesis, that Fitzgerald, having got what he bargained for, abandoned his Republican associates in the Council and has joined forces with the opposition.

Mayor Barstow appointed Newell at the instance of Fitzgerald who was backed by the other Republicans in the application by reason of the bargain he had made with them and which he subsequently broke. Mayor Barstow investigated Newell and found his record to be good beyond his association with Fitzgerald.

SCIENTISTS ARE IN SESSION.

Came from All Over the State to Attend the Session Here.

The First Christian Science Students Association of Oakland held the first session of its quarterly meeting this morning in Hamilton Hall.

The Oakland association numbers among its members residents of nearly all the Pacific Coast States and many Eastern States and Alaska.

Representatives were present this morning from San Francisco and all the bay cities and towns from Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose, Santa Cruz, Los Gatos, Modesto, and other places. The officers of this association are F. J. Fluno, M. D., C. S. D., President; Mrs. E. V. Fluno, C. S. B., vice-president; Wm. A. Newman, C. S., Secretary; Miss C. A. Wheaton, C. S., treasurer.

The president read selections from the Bible and Science and Health by Mary Baker Eddy. Silent prayer was followed by the secretary's report.

Dr. Fluno welcomed the members and then addressed them on the subject of "Love," and what its practice means in the growth of the cause. He also referred to the opening services yesterday morning of the beautiful Christian Science Church in Los Angeles, which he attended, paying a high tribute to the leaders there, and also to A. A. Sulzer, M. D., C. S. B., of Riverside, who also addressed those services.

Among the speakers at this morning's session were Dr. C. Gratton of Stockton, Mrs. M. A. Kimball of Palo Alto, who gave interesting accounts of local growth, and Mrs. A. Hague of Visalia, who spoke of the increasing membership in Manchester and London, England.

The sessions this afternoon and evening will be devoted to the further discussion of the topics of this morning, with reports from visiting members on the rapid progress of the Christian Science movement in their respective sections.

JOHN CRONIN IS KILLED.

Was Tried and Acquitted on a Serious Charge Made in Oakland.

"BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 6.—A man named Cronin was brought in to the County Hospital this evening suffering from a gunshot wound in the back, and died shortly after arriving. He was accidentally shot while hunting rabbits with Frank Limmer, a friend."

The Cronin referred to in the foregoing dispatch is John Cronin, formerly of this city, who was tried and acquitted on a charge of criminal assault on Martha McGraw.

Cronin was about 22 years of age, and his parents reside at the present time in West Oakland.

The family of the deceased was notified of the tragedy last night.

James Keating and William Eaton were tried on the same charge as was Cronin, the latter was sentenced to forty-five years in the penitentiary, while Keating was acquitted on his third trial.

FUNERAL OF LATE EDWARD HENSHAW

Simple Services Were Held at the Family Residence at Noon.

MANY BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTES.

The funeral of Edward Tyler Henshaw was held today at noon from his late residence, 115 Moss avenue.

Besides the immediate members of the family, many life-long friends and acquaintances gathered to pay their last mark of respect.

In accordance with the wishes made known during the life of the deceased, simple, unaffected services were held over the remains. Rev. Dr. Joseph Worcester, a life-long friend of the family, and pastor of the Swedenborgian Church of San Francisco, conducted the simple but impressive funeral services. After reading words of comfort and consolation from the Bible, he spoke briefly of death and the promises of a future life.

He said in part: "Although the physical body may die, although the outward man may perish, yet there is something within the breast of humanity which tells us that the good, the best part of man, does not die. The spark of divinity which God has breathed into man is not to be quenched when the frail body has succumbed to the work of outside elements."

"The wisdom, love and goodness which grows and expands as the years mark the progress to old age, does not die, but is given back to God from whence they came. It is for his glory, that death comes. His promise of the life hereafter is the consolation and compensation of this life. He who bids the winds to hush, and the waters to be calm, will take charge of the soul and see that it puts on a new glory and immortality in the world to come."

Among the many friends and acquaintances present were Miss Sarah Horton, Mrs. R. B. Anthony, J. S. McDonald, William J. Dingee, Judge Emil Nusbaum, Attorney George Reed, Judge Greene, Dr. Charles Rodolph, H. Slessinger, William L. Taylor, William H. Chickering, Bernard Miller, Mrs. Miller, George Grant, Congressman Victor H. Metcalf, Phil Lawlor, Mrs. Standford, Fred Cook, Milton Buckley, Mrs. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Belcher, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Gould, Mr. William H. Braden and many others.

The floral offerings were many and of the most exquisite workmanship. At the head of the casket was a beautiful floral cross of white and red roses. Many garlands and wreaths were distributed over the casket and about the parlor, a tribute to the memory of the departed.

After the funeral services the friends and acquaintances withdrew. The immediate members of the family accompanied the remains to San Francisco, where short services were held in private, preparatory to the cremation of the body at the Odd Fellows' Crematorium.

WARREN WATSON BACK FROM EUROPE

Mrs. Watson Will Remain in Paris to Study the French Language.

Warren M. Watson of the wholesale wine and liquor store of W. M. Watson & Co. has returned home after an absence of eighteen months in Europe.

While abroad Mr. Watson was accompanied by his wife. They made a tour of France, Italy, Switzerland and the British Isles, making it a point to see almost everything that was worth seeing in the places they visited.

Mr. Watson has returned in the best of health and full of information as regards the places of interest in the old world.

He finds that, during his absence, his business has been conducted in a capable manner by the young men in whose care he left it.

Mr. Watson is one of the most persistent of foreign travelers resident in this city, and it is not at all improbable that, before many months, he may again be taken himself to some part of Europe which thus far has escaped his attention.

Mrs. Watson remains with her sister, Mrs. Richmond, to finish her study of the French language.

MISS BAKER WILL SOON MARRY.

Prominent Society Young Lady Will be the Bride of San Jose Physician.

Another of Oakland's fairest daughters, Miss Irene Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Baker, is soon to enter the married state. Her future home, however, will be elsewhere, because she has been wooed and won by a resident of San Jose, a prominent young physician, Dr. John D. Grissim.

It was not the intention to make formal admission of the engagement until next Thursday night because of the absence from the city of Miss Baker's mother, who is now on her way here from the East. The news, however, leaked out in some way, and the unauthorized publication of it caused the bride-prospective no small amount of annoyance.

Miss Baker is a most charming young woman. For several years past she has been popular in leading social circles and a prominent figure at all the leading social functions of this city. Her departure from Oakland to shine in the society of San Jose will be keenly felt by her many close friends. No date has, as yet, been set for the nuptials.

SCHLEY CASE.

Spanish ships were then engaged with the Viscaya, Colon and the Oquendo. The Viscaya was about 2,500 yards on our starboard bow; the Colon probably was a little forward of the starboard bow. The Oquendo was about the starboard beam. We continued in that direction when I remarked to Captain Cook that it seemed rather lonely for us out there. He was in the conning tower. He asked: "Why?" I said that we were all alone with the three Spanish ships and it seemed that it depended on us to knock them out."

"God Bless the Oregon." "At that time the smoke was so dense that I could not see anything and I supposed that the New York was away, the Brooklyn was steaming ahead of the slower vessels. He stepped out of the conning tower and exclaimed to me: 'What's that off our starboard quarter?' I looked in that direction and saw the heavy bow of a ship and said that it must be the Massachusetts. He said: 'No, it cannot be the Massachusetts. She has gone to Guam.' I said: 'It must be the Oregon,' and he remarked: 'God bless the Oregon.' I said: 'Well, I am very glad to see her.'"

"The Oregon was at that time about, I should say, four or five hundred yards off our starboard quarter at full speed. We continued in that position until the Brooklyn's speed began to increase. The Oregon was then ordered to increase speed and to port her helm and ran in shore. At this point Mr. Rayner questioned the witness at length. He asked if it was not Captain Cook who had given the order to 'port helm.' The witness replied that it might have been Captain Cook who gave the order to the man at the helm.

"Did Commodore Schley give the order to port helm?" "He did."

"Was the helm already a-port?" "I guess so—Captain Cook says so."

Objection was made by Captain Lemly to the use of the word "guess" by the witness, but Admiral Dewey said the form of expression was immaterial and asked that counsel should not interrupt.

Continuing his statement in response to Mr. Rayner's question, the witness said when his conversation with Commodore Schley had occurred on the Brooklyn the Commodore was standing on the platform around the conning tower and two or three feet from himself (the witness), and that Captain Cook, a part of the time, stood in the door of the conning tower, four or five feet distant.

DAMN THE TEXAS.

He said that Captain Cook had taken part in the conversation.

Mr. Rayner then questioned the witness very closely in regard to the language in which this colloquy was reported by the newspapers and the language used by Mr. Hodgson in his correspondence with Admiral Schley. He read the newspaper version of Commander Hodgson's statement of the colloquy as follows:

"Schley—Hard a-port."

"Hodgson—You mean starboard."

"Schley—No, I don't. We are near enough to them (the Spaniards) already."

Hodgson—But we will cut down the Texas."

"Schley—Damn the Texas; let her look out for herself."

Mr. Rayner then had the witness scrutinize the letter which he had written to Admiral Schley on July 8 and drew from him the statement that he had not used the expression "Damn the Texas." When the witness was asked if he thought there was any suggestion of any such expression, he replied:

"When I suggested to Commodore Schley that there was danger of colliding with the Texas, he said: 'Damn the Texas.' He used the expression as not in any way condemning the Texas for being there, but as if he was irritated as one might be about anything."

Mr. Rayner then asked about the expression attributed to the witness: "She will cut down the Texas." Commander Hodgson replied that there was no such expression in the letter, and that he had never said that the Brooklyn would cut down the Texas. "There is a good deal in that reported colloquy that I did not say," he added. "The statement was never made." He went on, "but the Commodore said: 'Damn the Texas.'"

MISS ADAMS ON THE STAND.

Daughter Again Repeats the Painful Story of Her Father's Drinking.

THE DEFENDANT IS BETTER.

Miss Agnes S. Adams, daughter of the slayer of Dr. Jessup, resumed the witness stand this morning and was cross-examined by the prosecuting attorneys.

Adams, who suffered a slight stroke of paralysis last Thursday, appeared to have recovered to a great extent from the attack, although his left leg seemed stiff.

His daughter seemed solicitous as to his condition and saluted him with a kiss.

The cross-examination failed to develop any facts not already elicited in the direct testimony, nor was the witness shaken in her evidence.

The cross-examination of Miss Adams will be concluded this afternoon, when the defense will place several expert witnesses on the stand with the object of proving Adams mentally infirm.

THE OIL COMBINE.
The long-promised combination of California oil interests has been perfected at last, the filing of the articles of incorporation of the $40,000,000 Associated Oil Company furnishing all the proof necessary in that regard. While the consolidation does not include all the oil operating interests in the State it has nevertheless gathered enough of the producers into one fold to ensure regulating the market, and in all probability when it gets into full working shape it will endeavor to purchase as many as possible of the smaller properties.
The combination is notable from the standpoint of the State's interests, for it will undoubtedly mean the infusion of new life into the fast decaying oil industry. The collapse of the boom a few months ago has been followed by sporadic attempts to get the business upon its feet again, but failure has attended each instance owing to the enormous load that would have to be carried by the particular corporation attempting the revivification. The Associated Company, however, consists of nearly all the heavily capitalized and bona fide concerns in the business, so it will be in a position to make large outlays to carry its points and, furthermore, by virtually controlling the supply will compel those purchasing petroleum to come to its terms rather than enforce their own prices.
While the details of proposed operation have not yet been fully outlined, it is known that the new company intends to operate upon a large scale. If the transportation problem can be met in no other way, it is the intention to construct a pipe line to the coast, independent of the one to be built by the Standard Oil Company, with which monopoly it is evidently not afraid to enter into vigorous competition. The local market will be handled by the construction of large tanks at San Francisco and other central distributing points, and if necessary the company will operate its own street carts, thus carrying the oil directly to the consumer.
The erroneous impression might be created that because the combine is about to advance the price of oil at the well's mouth this will operate to the disadvantage of the consumer in that higher retail schedules will in consequence obtain. This, however, is not the case. At the present quotations in the oil field of from 15 cents to 20 cents a barrel the wells cannot be worked at a profit, and the public will therefore be left at the mercy of the old oil ring. With, however, a fair margin of profit established for the producers, the oil fields will all spring into activity again and competing petroleum will appear upon the market. The Associated Oil Company, therefore, looks like a good thing for the public as well as the oil men, that is if the lines mapped out in the articles of incorporation are pursued on a straightforward business basis, as they seemingly will be.

It is stated in the dispatches that the monument to be erected to McKinley in Canton will cost $1,500,000. Nobody will question the propriety of spending this sum for the purpose named, but the place for such a magnificent memorial is Washington, not the little city of Canton. The tribute of the nation to the man who exemplified its highest type of citizenship and who was the pattern of its domestic virtues should be reared in the capital of that nation. Standing there it will eloquently tell its story to the generations yet unborn, bearing a message to all who behold it. There it will always be in the full sight of the nation, and none can visit the National Capitol without recalling the tragic event and the national sorrow it commemorates. But in Canton such a splendid monument will be lost to public view. The very purpose of its erection will be defeated. Instead of being a lesson and a remembrance to the whole people it will become a mere local memorial by the wayside—buried as it were in a country churchyard. It will be like a pearl jealously hidden away from sight, delighting only the eye of its possessor, and not enriching mankind with its beauty. A modest local monument at Canton is not inappropriate; indeed it would be a manifest lack of sympathy not to erect one there. But Canton is no place for the nation's memorial.
The character, the life and example, the services and the memory of William McKinley belong to the whole American people. They constitute an heritage of which the great monument erected by popular subscription will be the title deed. Its record should be made in company with the stately dome of the Capitol and the lofty monument to Washington, not in the obscure town which became famous only because he resided there until the nation called him to its chief magistracy. It is appropriate in Washington, but inappropriate in Canton. It is not the citizen of Canton whose memory the monument will perpetuate but the American statesman without fear and without reproach. Therefore it should point heavenward in the city laid out by Washington and in which the nation's altar has been builded.

San Diego is again starting up the rumor of a competing line that will directly connect the extreme southern end of the State with trans-continental transportation, but an examination of the conditions upon which the story is based, does not entitle the report to more credence than has hitherto been given to the many newspaper railroads built down that way. With the Clark line directly heading from Utah and giving south of Tehachapi another eastern outlet, it looks as if they will be well provided with railroads for many years to come in that section and there certainly seems little reason why capitalists should be willing to spend the many millions that would be required to build the line suggested into San Diego county.
The State, however, is going to witness a lot of important railroad work during the next twelve months. The Los Angeles Terminal—the line from Utah is called—will throw open to development a vast area of mining and stock country that has heretofore been practically uninhabitable on account of the lack of transportation facilities, while the extension of the California Northern from Ukiah is already under way and will be steadily pressed. In this latter connection it may be said that at present the contracts only call for construction work as far as Williams, a distance of 20 miles from the present terminus, but as soon as the timber wealth there is properly tapped it is the intention to push on to coast connections at Eureka. Whether or not the plans include the ultimate linking with overland lines up north that has been claimed is not generally known, but in any event, the road is going to be a very valuable piece of property and a considerable factor to State progress if only the Eureka goal is reached.
In addition to these two main features of railroad work there must be considered the reconstruction of the Coast road by the Southern Pacific, the extension of branch lines in the San Joaquin especially in the oil districts, and the new trackage proposed by the Santa Fe, so taken altogether no one will dispute the claim that next year will be an eventful one in California's railroad history. Every mile of new territory opened up by a railroad means a valuable addition to the State's wealth, for the tapping of new sources of production and the creation of fresh opportunities for settlement, make up a combination all in the interests of progress.

M'KINLEY'S MONUMENT.

It is stated in the dispatches that the monument to be erected to McKinley in Canton will cost $1,500,000. Nobody will question the propriety of spending this sum for the purpose named, but the place for such a magnificent memorial is Washington, not the little city of Canton. The tribute of the nation to the man who exemplified its highest type of citizenship and who was the pattern of its domestic virtues should be reared in the capital of that nation. Standing there it will eloquently tell its story to the generations yet unborn, bearing a message to all who behold it. There it will always be in the full sight of the nation, and none can visit the National Capitol without recalling the tragic event and the national sorrow it commemorates. But in Canton such a splendid monument will be lost to public view. The very purpose of its erection will be defeated. Instead of being a lesson and a remembrance to the whole people it will become a mere local memorial by the wayside—buried as it were in a country churchyard. It will be like a pearl jealously hidden away from sight, delighting only the eye of its possessor, and not enriching mankind with its beauty. A modest local monument at Canton is not inappropriate; indeed it would be a manifest lack of sympathy not to erect one there. But Canton is no place for the nation's memorial.
The character, the life and example, the services and the memory of William McKinley belong to the whole American people. They constitute an heritage of which the great monument erected by popular subscription will be the title deed. Its record should be made in company with the stately dome of the Capitol and the lofty monument to Washington, not in the obscure town which became famous only because he resided there until the nation called him to its chief magistracy. It is appropriate in Washington, but inappropriate in Canton. It is not the citizen of Canton whose memory the monument will perpetuate but the American statesman without fear and without reproach. Therefore it should point heavenward in the city laid out by Washington and in which the nation's altar has been builded.

OPENING UP THE STATE.

San Diego is again starting up the rumor of a competing line that will directly connect the extreme southern end of the State with trans-continental transportation, but an examination of the conditions upon which the story is based, does not entitle the report to more credence than has hitherto been given to the many newspaper railroads built down that way. With the Clark line directly heading from Utah and giving south of Tehachapi another eastern outlet, it looks as if they will be well provided with railroads for many years to come in that section and there certainly seems little reason why capitalists should be willing to spend the many millions that would be required to build the line suggested into San Diego county.
The State, however, is going to witness a lot of important railroad work during the next twelve months. The Los Angeles Terminal—the line from Utah is called—will throw open to development a vast area of mining and stock country that has heretofore been practically uninhabitable on account of the lack of transportation facilities, while the extension of the California Northern from Ukiah is already under way and will be steadily pressed. In this latter connection it may be said that at present the contracts only call for construction work as far as Williams, a distance of 20 miles from the present terminus, but as soon as the timber wealth there is properly tapped it is the intention to push on to coast connections at Eureka. Whether or not the plans include the ultimate linking with overland lines up north that has been claimed is not generally known, but in any event, the road is going to be a very valuable piece of property and a considerable factor to State progress if only the Eureka goal is reached.
In addition to these two main features of railroad work there must be considered the reconstruction of the Coast road by the Southern Pacific, the extension of branch lines in the San Joaquin especially in the oil districts, and the new trackage proposed by the Santa Fe, so taken altogether no one will dispute the claim that next year will be an eventful one in California's railroad history. Every mile of new territory opened up by a railroad means a valuable addition to the State's wealth, for the tapping of new sources of production and the creation of fresh opportunities for settlement, make up a combination all in the interests of progress.

THE OIL COMBINE.

The long-promised combination of California oil interests has been perfected at last, the filing of the articles of incorporation of the $40,000,000 Associated Oil Company furnishing all the proof necessary in that regard. While the consolidation does not include all the oil operating interests in the State it has nevertheless gathered enough of the producers into one fold to ensure regulating the market, and in all probability when it gets into full working shape it will endeavor to purchase as many as possible of the smaller properties.
The combination is notable from the standpoint of the State's interests, for it will undoubtedly mean the infusion of new life into the fast decaying oil industry. The collapse of the boom a few months ago has been followed by sporadic attempts to get the business upon its feet again, but failure has attended each instance owing to the enormous load that would have to be carried by the particular corporation attempting the revivification. The Associated Company, however, consists of nearly all the heavily capitalized and bona fide concerns in the business, so it will be in a position to make large outlays to carry its points and, furthermore, by virtually controlling the supply will compel those purchasing petroleum to come to its terms rather than enforce their own prices.
While the details of proposed operation have not yet been fully outlined, it is known that the new company intends to operate upon a large scale. If the transportation problem can be met in no other way, it is the intention to construct a pipe line to the coast, independent of the one to be built by the Standard Oil Company, with which monopoly it is evidently not afraid to enter into vigorous competition. The local market will be handled by the construction of large tanks at San Francisco and other central distributing points, and if necessary the company will operate its own street carts, thus carrying the oil directly to the consumer.

ON THE ROAD

All the time, eating irregularly, sleeping irregularly, exposed to every disease latent in bad cooking or poor food; that's a summary of the traveling man's life. The result is "stomach trouble"; that general term which covers various forms and stages of disease of the organs of digestion and nutrition. The traveling man can't avoid the troubles which spring from his business obligations. But he can avoid "stomach trouble." If Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is used when the early symptoms of derangement of the stomach manifest themselves, the cure will be quick and radical. But even if the disease has become chronic the "Discovery" will cure ninety-eight times out of every hundred if tried fairly and faithfully.
Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish comedian and mimic, of 577 Royden St., Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till last week, while playing at B. P. Keith's Bijou Theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelson

RAILROAD NEWS FROM WEST OAKLAND YARDS.

SUGAR SHIPMENTS FROM HAWAII ARE HELPING THE BUSINESS OF THE ESTATE—HOW JAMES AGLER RECEIVED NEWS OF PROMOTION.

The greatest sugar business in the history of Long Wharf has been transacted during the last three months. For the period stated, from three to five ships have been discharging daily. The gross amount of sugar received from Honolulu during the last quarter can be approximately stated as 140,000 tons. The value of this enormous cargo can be roughly estimated at $1,500,000 or about $5,000,000 for the year. When the fact that this unusual amount of sugar has been delivered to one wharf alone is considered, the proportions the sugar trade with the Hawaiian Islands has assumed since the annexation took place becomes apparent. Indications point to a rapid increase in the large trade, according to the estimations of Freight Agent J. W. Dickinson, the sugar trade which increased at least one-fourth during the coming year.

The sugar received is in the main the raw product, although in recent years the Hawaiian planters have installed refining processes, which produce a large white grained sugar, which has to be crushed before it is ready for use. The raw product is shipped to the various refineries in this country and there prepared for commercial uses.

The sugar received at Long Wharf by no means represents the entire shipments of sugar from Hawaii to the United States. Aside from the quantity which is delivered to San Francisco direct, large cargoes are sent to Portland and Seattle, from which points they are shipped to Eastern and European destinations. For the first time in many months all the sugar vessels lying in the stream have finished discharging their cargoes. Yesterday there was not a ship in the bay which had not been unloaded. There are, however, about a dozen vessels on the way from Honolulu. There is no prospect of an immediate diminution of trade.

CALIFORNIA SUGAR PINE IS MUCH IN DEMAND.

Another industry which has recently assumed noteworthy proportions is the demand from Australia for California sugar pine. Within the last two months about $200,000 worth of lumber has been shipped and about an equal amount has been contracted for. Altogether five ships with cargoes valued at $40,000 have cleared for Sydney and Melbourne, and several vessels are still waiting to be loaded. Other kinds of California lumber are in slight demand, but the sale of sugar pine in the Antipodes gives promise of becoming one of the most flourishing industries of the State.

BARLEY MOVEMENT TOWARD THE EUROPEAN PORTS.

The movement in barley toward European ports is also a very noticeable factor in the trade at the West Oakland yards. The various grain firms on the coast have received orders for about $500,000 worth of cereals, principally barley, from large European importers. The orders are being rapidly filled.

The same crush of traffic that has existed for the last three months in all kinds of trade at the yards has been augmented by the settlement of the strike. The yards are virtually congested with loaded freight trains which are delayed from twenty-four to forty-eight hours, owing to the lack of motive power. Weigher Jacobus states the yards have never been so full of freight awaiting transportation since the Spanish war as at the present time. The pressure will be relieved within sixty days, it is stated, by the arrival of a number of new engines from the East.

JAMES AGLER RECEIVES NEWS OF HIS APPOINTMENT.

James Agler received the news of his promotion to the position made vacant by the resignation of J. M. Herbert while on a tour of inspection in his private car accompanied by Resident Engineer F. F. Lloyd, Master Car Repairer H. Englebright, Assistant Master Mechanic W. H. Russell, Road Master Thomas Ahern, and Chief Clerk A. W. Baker. Just before the party reached Fresno, a telegram from San Francisco reached Agler informing him of the promotion. The news was so unexpected, but yet such welcome information that the various members of the party were dumfounded. They hastened to tender their congratulations before the new superintendent returned to San Francisco to take up his new duties. Master Car Repairer Englebright states that no promotion in recent years has given more universal satisfaction to the railroad employees than the appointment of Agler to the General Superintendent.

The life of the new superintendent is an instructive one. It shows what can be accomplished even by the humblest employee of a great corporation by industry and perseverance. Agler has risen to his present position through his own untiring efforts. He has climbed to the top from the lowest rung in the ladder and has no one to thank except his own zeal and perseverance. First a switchman, then brakeman, operator, conductor, trainman, and now General Superintendent, Agler's remarkable history. Along with his rapid promotions he has ever carried the industry and courtesy which has endeared him to all railroad employees.

LONG WHARF THE SCENE OF BUSINESS ACTIVITY.

The Schome and Emily Reed have finished discharging cargoes of sugar. The Italian ship Francisco Crampe has arrived with a cargo of pig-iron and coke.

The Philada is discharging coke. The Melphome is taking on a cargo of grain for Europe.

The Mattawan and Mireola are due today with a cargo of coal for the company.

The Washenaw is discharging coke. On the trip to the Sound she ran into a rock, which stove a hole in one of her compartments. Aside from the repair, doing a little local damage no injury resulted. She will go on the Marine ways for repairs.

The ship Iquique has arrived with 1,000 tons of nitre from Chile.

The Falls of Clyde is taking on machinery and merchandise for Honolulu.

The R. P. Rutherford is loading for the islands.

Mary Conroy, residing at 1022 Third street, has filed a claim of $25,000 against the city of Oakland for damages received by the falling of an electric pole owned by the city on May 1, 1901.

In asking for damages the claimant sets forth that the pole was permitted by the city of Oakland to become unsafe and rotten, and by reason of lack of repair to be a menace to travelers and residents on said street.

It is also set forth "That on the 1st day of May, 1901, while your petitioner was sitting in the front window of her house engaged in sewing, said pole, by reason of its unsafe condition, broke at the base and fell against the house with great force, and that your petitioner barely escaped instant death; and that, by reason of the falling glass, the fear and terror occasioned by the shock to her nervous system, and a consequent derangement of her system, she is entitled to $25,000 damages, which is a reasonable sum."

CRIME AND DEATH WRECK MIND OF MRS. MAJORS.

WHEN HER NOTORIOUS SON IS CONVICTED OF THE CRIME OF MURDER THE UNHAPPY MOTHER BECOMES A RAVING MANIAC.

The following dispatch from Salt Lake tells of the latest incident in the eventful life of Mrs. Lloyd Majors, who left here a few weeks ago to be present at the trial of her son, Abe Majors, charged with murder:

"SALT LAKE (Utah), Oct. 5.—Mrs. Majors, mother of Abe Majors, who was convicted of murder in the second degree in Logan yesterday, was brought here tonight a maniac. A commission in lunacy will inquire into her case Tuesday and she will probably be sent to Provo insane asylum. The conviction of her boy, whose acquittal she confidently expected, has unbalanced her mind."

The life of Mrs. Majors has been one of the most extraordinary in criminal annals. She has been the wife and mother of murderers; eloped with her husband at the age of 15 years, and, seven years later, watched the building of the scaffold from which all that was mortal of Lloyd Majors dangled, May 4, 1881.

The crime for which Majors was executed was the murder of William Reardon and Archibald McIntyre, near Las Gatos. The hanging took place in Oakland.

Abe Majors began his career of crime in 1885. Alameda county was the scene of scores of daring burglaries and safe-cracking, and in January, 1890, Abe Majors and Bert Willmore, two lads not 17 years old, were captured and confessed that they were the desperadoes. Their confession was substantiated by proof.

Mrs. Willmore, a devout church member and mother of Bert, was arrested for encouraging the boys to commit burglaries and for helping them to harbor their booty in her house.

The lads were sentenced to ten years in Folsom, but were released on parole after two years. They violated the parole and disappeared.

Archie Majors, another son, was shot by a posse in Utah while following the calling of a highwayman, and it was on this occasion that Abe Majors committed the crime for which he has just stood trial. Abe had accompanied his brother, and when set upon by the officers he shot and killed Police Captain Brown of Box Elder county, Utah.

The following dispatch tells the story of his trial and the cause of his mother's insanity:

"LOGAN, Utah, Oct. 4, 1901.—Abe Majors has escaped death. The young man who was condemned to die for the murder of Captain Brown of the Ogden police, but was granted a new trial by the Supreme Court, was today found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury after being out nine and a half hours. Tuesday next is the day set by the court for sentence."

The case was given to the jury at 11 o'clock this morning. The charge of Judge Hart comprised forty-two separate addictions. One fact presented was that if the jury should find that Majors and his brother were engaged in opposing the officers and that either killed Brown, then both are equally guilty.

the occasion of the dedication of a large summer house made by Carl Lutz, one of the residents of the home.
He was for many years a locomotive engineer, but five years ago his health became so poor that he was compelled to give up work and went to the Altenheim to spend his remaining days.
Since then he has practically recovered his health and has done much in the way of beautifying the grounds. The summer house was an idea of his own, and more than a year ago he commenced the work of construction.
With the frame work up he planted vines about, and now they have covered the frame work so that the interior is in a dense shade. J. F. W.
Solst, chairman of the house committee, made the dedication address, and Lutz replied in a happy strain. A poem written by A. Glauch for the occasion was read by C. C. Volberg, and at its conclusion all the residents of the home joined in singing German songs to the zither accompaniment of Miss Elsa Fiesche.

really worth $100,000.

remaining two-thirds is to be distributed which will take place on Thursday evening of this week. The grand officers will be escorted to the hall by the members headed by the band.

At the close of the exercises a banquet will take place in the gymnasium, and it is the intention of the committees in charge of that part of the program to make it one of the finest spreads ever given by the order. A number of other courts have been invited to be present to witness the initiation of the twenty-five new members.
Court Haywards is the star court of the county and the officers express the hope of having 200 members by the 1st of

The officers are anxious that all mem-

WILL FIX THE TAX
LEVY AT HAYWARDS.
HAYWARDS, Oct. 7.—The tax levy was discussed at the last meeting of the Board of Town Trustees and there will be a meeting tonight, when the matter will be settled and announced.
It is thought that the matter of improving the streets will also be brought up.
This was spoken of at the last meeting in a very favorable manner and it looks very much as if something will be done about the streets shortly.
The matter has long been contemplated but has been put off from time to time until the streets have gotten into such a condition that they can be stood off no longer. The talk was for macadamizing a street at a time, and in that way they would finally get them all in good shape.

M. J. LAYMANCE IS BACK FROM FRESNO.
M. J. Laymance returned yesterday from Fresno, where he has been for the past week looking after his raisin vineyards and interests. Mr. Laymance was chairman of the indignation committee that called the mass meeting last Wednesday of raisin growers to compel the Board of Directors of the California Raisin Growers' Association to set a higher price for this year's crop of raisins. The meeting will no doubt result in great benefit to the growers.
There is practically no change in the condition of the local market for dried fruits and sellers continue to report a fair inquiry for the various varieties of offerings at steady prices. Orders for raisins are freely arriving from the East, but local dealers are confirming none, being positive they cannot get the fruit at the ridiculously low prices fixed by the Growers' Association.
